4) No More Tour Plans: Tour Plans are no longer required, but you still have to follow all the safety requirements the Tour Plans used to guide you through. Basically, BSA decided Scoutmasters were smart people who can do that and this was just an un-needed administrative burden. Please read through the frequently asked questions on this topic at:

<http://www.scouting.org/scoutsource/HealthandSafety/TourPlanFAQ.aspx> I

5) Sailing Opportunity with Annapolis Navy Sailing Association (ANSA): ANSA is considering offering sailing opportunities for Scouts in the Annapolis Area. Interested Scoutmasters or Crew Advisors should contact ANSA directly, realizing this is in the planning phase right now. Assume small groups of Scouts/Venturers of high adventure age (13 and older) with adult leaders could be accommodated. Contact ANSA Board Member Colonel, Arnie Porter, USAF, (Ret.) arnieandco@cox.net if interested.

Yours in Scouting,

Mark Mulligan
